Do you know your Pinelands Commission County Representative?

When the Pinelands Protection Act was passed in 1979, it established a 15-member public body to be known as the Pinelands Commission. This Commission was charge with putting into place a comprehensive management plan for 1.1 million acres in order to protect, preserve and enhance the resources of the New Jersey Pinelands.

Seven members of the Commission are appointed by the Governor, with advice and consent of the Senate. Seven members are appointed from each of the seven counties with land in the New Jersey Pinelands region. These counties are Atlantic, Burlington, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester and Ocean County. The final member is appointed by the U.S. Secretary of the Interior and serves as the federal representative. All Commissioners are unpaid volunteers.

County members are appointed by the county Board of Chosen Freeholders. Do you know who is serving from your county?

The current county members are Atlantic, Paul Galletta; Burlington, Sean Earlen; Camden, Edward McGlinchey; Cape May, William Brown; Gloucester, Francis Witt; Ocean, Alan Avery. Information about each of these individuals is posted on the NJ Pinelands Commission website at www.state.nj.us/pinelands/about/memb/.

The last of the seven counties is Cumberland. Cumberland County’s representative for the last 18 years was Leslie Ficcaglia, but on April 22, 2014 she was replaced. The Cumberland County Freeholder Board appointed Jane Jannarone a local business owner and former Cumberland County freeholder. Ms. Ficcaglia had no notice that she would be replaced.

including seven as Chair. She was Vice Chair of the Cumberland County Planning Board until 2007, and is currently a member of the County Tourism Council and a trustee of the Citizens United to Protect the Maurice River and its Tributaries.

Leslie Ficcaglia was one seven Pinelands Commissioners who voted, in January 2014, against the 22 mile high pressure pipeline that South Jersey Gas wanted to put through the Forest Management Areas of Cumberland, Atlantic and Cape May Counties. This pipeline was to serve the B.L. England plant on Beesley’s Point, Upper Township. The final vote was tied 7-7 and they needed 8 votes in favor for the project to move forward. But now the Pinelands Commission is under a lot of pressure to overturn this decision. In March 2014 South Jersey Gas appealed the Commission’s decision to the Superior Court of New Jersey. And now Cumberland County has removed a crucial “no” vote by replacing Leslie Ficcaglia.

County Pinelands Commission appointments are made by the board of freeholders in each county. The meetings of Freeholder Boards are open to the public and most Boards post their agendas prior to the scheduled meeting. These meetings give Pinelands supporters an opportunity to attend and speak out in support of Pinelands protection!

What can you do?

- Attend your Board of Freeholder meetings and speak out in support of Pinelands protection; remind them that every applicant should follow the Comprehensive Management Plan regulations.

- Write a letter to the editor. Tell your local, daily or weekly paper by writing a letter letting residents in your area know who your county representative is and how they vote on important issues before the Commission.

Bay Advocates Issue Evaluation of Christie Administration’s 10-Point “Comprehensive Action Plan” to Protect Barnegat Bay

Score Card Outlines Progress, Setbacks and Hope for Success

On December 9, 2010, Governor Chris Christie announced a comprehensive action plan to address the ecological health of the 660-square-mile Barnegat Bay watershed. Now that the plan has had the opportunity to advance for over three years, environmental groups working to protect and restore the Bay are offering their evaluation of how they feel the plan is progressing.

On Friday, April 25th NJDEP Commissioner Martin delivered the Department’s official public update on the plan. In response, Pinelands Preservation Alliance, American Littoral Society, Clean Ocean Action, and Save Barnegat Bay evaluated the plan thus far and offered “Thumbs Up”, “Thumbs Down” and “Fingers Crossed” on each of the 10-Points.

The groups are supportive of the plan and maintain that it provides a good framework to build upon, but have urged the Christie Administration to take stronger legal steps to clean up the Bay. The most important and immediate step that the Governor needs to take is to declare the Bay impaired for excessive nutrients. An impairment designation under the Clean Water Act is the strongest step on the path to a healthy Bay.

The challenges facing Barnegat Bay haven’t changed and time continues to pass by without the action needed to reverse the decline in the Bay’s health. The Governor’s Plan lays the foundation for steps that are needed to improve the Bay, but lack of action is leaving a good plan on the shelf.

The public is encouraged to sign an online petition to request the administration declare the Bay impaired for nutrients under the Clean Water Act. This action is the first step in developing a pollution reduction budget (Total Maximum Daily Load).
